BANQUE DE LUXEMBOURG Fee Information Document

Glossary

Account statement	The Bank provides you with a statement of the balance and transactions in your account.
Cash withdrawals	You take cash out of your account.
Credit transfer	The Bank transfers money, on your instruction, from your account to another account.
Direct debit	You permit someone else (recipient) to instruct the Bank to transfer money from your account to that recipient. The Bank then transfers money to the recipient on a date or dates agreed by you and the recipient. The amount may vary.
Maintaining the account	The Bank operates the account for use by you.
Online banking	The Bank provides you with access to online banking (E-Banking) via the internet or via the BL Mobile Banking app.
Overdraft	You and the Bank agree in advance that you may borrow money when there is no money left in your account. The agreement determines a maximum amount that can be borrowed, and whether you will be charged fees and interest.
Providing a credit card	The Bank provides you with a payment card linked to your payment account. The total amount of the transactions made using the card during an agreed period is taken in full from your payment account on an agreed date. A credit agreement between you and the Bank determines whether you will be charged interest for the borrowing.
Providing a debit card	The Bank provides you with a payment card linked to your account. The amount of each transaction made using the card is taken directly and in full from your account.
Standing order	The Bank makes regular transfers, on your instruction, of a fixed amount of money from your account to another account.
